THE MEN WHO BLUEPRINT OUR LIVES

THE VERY REVEREND JOHN J. COFFEY, O.S.A., M.A.
Headmaster

Headmaster's Message

A school might be compared to an experiment center patronized by travelers journeying great or small distances.

We at Malvern like to think of ourselves as preparing you the class of 1969 for a long journey—learned as preparing you the class of destiny. Truly, it is the best for you, eternal happiness with God.

For a nationing goal we hope and pray our stock is durable and sound. We know there are days ahead when the winds of temptation will buffet you when the tides of strife will dash down upon you.

Others like you have set a far torch in adventure of life with Malvern, and they have withstood every element that bared its teeth against them. Their equipment—the shield of character and the sword of truth—welded by hands strengthened through the grace of God won the prize at the journey's end.

As you edge your way closer and closer to eternity—we your teachers and all your friends shall pray that what you received from our minds and example might aid you in some small way to be hailed at the end of the journey by the Great Master Himself as a good and faithful servant—a valiant journeyman—a scarred but saintly warrior.

REV. JOHN J. COFFEY, O.S.A.
Headmaster

MR. JAMES M. AUCH

6949 Pawling Street
Roxborough, Pennsylvania

Mr. Auch is a graduate of St. Joseph College. After receiving a B.S. in English he taught at LaSalle High, St. Joseph and Malvern. Fishing and Golfing are his favorite pastimes. During the summer Mr. Auch works in a tennis center. At Malvern he teaches History while also directing athletics.

REV. LAWRENCE J. CONNEEN, OSA

Father hails from Havertown, and his Alma Maters are both Villanova and Catholic Universities. Besides being a capable Religion teacher, Father Conneen is the procurator at Malvern. His favorite hobby is driving cars and school buses.

REV. WILLIAM T. EAGAN, OSA

Once a student and football player at the Augustinian Seminary in New York, Father Eagan advanced to Villanova and Catholic Universities. He teaches Algebra, Trigonometry and Solid Geometry. His favorite expression is "Are there any questions?"

MR. PAUL D. FELTON

88 Village Way
Malvern, Pennsylvania

Mr. Felton is a graduate of Ripon College in Wisconsin, where he obtained a B.A. in Liberal Arts. During the summer he works in the post office in Malvern. Mr. Felton teaches freshman English and P.O.D. His favorite hobbies are boating and camping.

SETTING PATTERNS

REV. FRANCIS B. GILLIGAN, OSA

A well-liked Cap-'n-Bonnet moderator, Father Gilligan teaches Drama and Chemistry. He studied at Villanova and Catholic Universities. Never seen without his bodyguard "Rocky." Besides being Disciplinarian, Father moderates all the dances at Malvern.

VERY REV. JOSEPH A. GRIFFERTY, OSA

Father Grifferty, studied at various universities, Catholic University and the University of St. Francis. He has been assigned to the St. Francis High School in Philadelphia. Father Grifferty is a member of the St. Francis High School in Philadelphia.

MR. HOWARD F. HANSELL

Selesianum 6 Malvern 0

The season opener was lost late in the 3rd quarter after a well played game by both teams. A blocked kick and subsequent touchdown were the killers for Malvern. Our strong line and star punter, John Calpin, were kept busy throughout the game.

Friends Central 12 Malvern 0

The sharp running and fine passing of Friends Central were too much for the stunned Malvern team. The Friars staged their biggest threats in the 2nd and 3rd quarters and held the enemy on both extra points.

Malvern 28 Bishop Egan 0

At last. Our first victory in more than a year. Malvern's strong defense and the fast running of Jim Graham and Jesse Owens combined to produce a sizeable difference in scores.

Malvern 22 C.H. 8

Malvern took to the air, this time with an excellent passing attack by Buzzy Dugan and Jim Bruder. The whole team played well and can take credit for the win.

Malvern 8 G. A. 8

The great moral victory of the year came with top defensive playing. Jesse Owens scored the Friars' only touchdown with the aid of the pass plays of Buzzy Dugan and Jim Graham.

Malvern 8 Haverford 6

A blocked kick and a safety gave the Friars their 3rd victory of the season. Ed Halloran proved himself to be the hero of the game defensively by blocking two kicks and being the iron man of the line.

Malvern 22 Episcopal 0

A great all around game put the Friars in first place of the Inter-Ac league. The defense was in top form, shutting out the enemy. Offensively, we ran all over the field without much competition.

Penn Charter 32 Malvern 0

The Friars were overcome in their attempt to win their first championship. It was a well-fought game, though, against tough competition.

St. Joseph's 34 Malvern 0

The season ended with a bang. Even though we lost the game, the cheering in our almost traditional game was at its peak. St. Joe's was just too much for Malvern to handle.

Kneeling: B. McGovern, P. Harron, A. O'K., J. O'Brien, B. Plater-Zyberk, J. McG., P. Mahoney, Dr. Powers, Coach, A. LaGalia and J. Cassidy, Managers. Standing: B. Ucros and M. Hubbard, Managers, Mr. Armon, Coach, M. McDonough, S. Saul, L. Whitino, J. Straub, M. P., P. Mahoney, Dr. Powers, Coach, A. LaGalia and J. Cassidy, Managers.

The 1952-53 basketball season at Malvern started up with an air of expectancy. This was appropriate because in the year before our "Friars" had tied for the Interac title and hopes were high again. In pre-season games, Malvern showed that these hopes were well founded. We entered the league competition with a 4-0 record, the only defeat being incurred at the hands of Salesianum, a team that had won 32 straight games.

Our first league game was a close one, a 43-41 victory over Germantown. However, it was won by Bob Plater-Zyberk's jump shot at the buzzer. We continued undefeated in league play until conquered by Germantown Academy on our own home court, 48-41. The "Friars" kept plugging though, and, with an assist from Penn Charter who bumped-off G.A., managed to climb back into a tie for the lead.

All waited in anticipation of the big game with G.A. on their floor. With a big assist from school spirit (our fans outnumbered theirs 2-1) we won the big game 69-52. A lot of credit is due to Pat Harron, who broke up the Germantown defense with his long-range bombing. Assured now of at least a tie for the title, we went into the Penn Charter game as heavy favorites. But once again it wasn't in the card and for the third straight year Malvern lost the title game. Thus we are now co-champs for the second straight year this time with G.A.

We did have our moments of glory and individual heroes, though. Who will ever forget Joe McGill's 85 foot "Ozark Ike" shot in the Conestoga scrimmage. Joe still claims it was a pass, but we know better. And how about Pat Mahoney in a jump ball against 6'6" George Raveling when we scrimmaged Villanova, or Mike McDonough's new record of seven flat tires during one season.

Seriously though, we did have a few bright spots—Jim O'Brien and Paul Harron made "All-Interac" and "Obie" was also picked on the All Main Line squad. For a very successful season we offer our sincere congratulations to the entire team and to the coaches, Dr. Powers and Mr. Armon.

Perhaps this is a time to feel joyous about the basketball situation at Malvern. In the last three years we have finished second, tied for first, and tied for first respectively. To add to the successful past there is the prospect of a bright future. Indeed, with three starters returning—Joe McGill, Pat Mahoney, and Joe Straub—and with Bill McGovern and Mike Kulzer moving up, you must admit that things do look rather good. But as we look at the past three years and look ahead to the future, we can't help but feel sad. It is the end of an era! Yes, it's true that success in basketball may, and probably will continue, but it won't be the same. There will be one big difference, Dr. Eugene Powers will not be the coach.

Of all the students at Malvern, we, the seniors, know him best. We entered into varsity competition in 1956-57, the first year that Dr. Powers was coach. It has been a happy association. In the last three years we have followed his teams, cheered his teams, and suffered with his teams. We have swallowed three bitter pills with Dr. Powers—the three games any one of which if turned into a victory would have given Malvern its first outright championship.

Dr. Powers has been a model coach. It is a well-known fact that a coach should not end on a he leaves the gym. It is a just as well-known fact that Dr. Powers has been more than a coach to his players, he has been a friend. Dr. Powers managed to make that line separating player and coach as slim as possible, yet he maintained strict discipline.

It is rather obvious that he is a good coach. Just take a look at his record. His first year at Malvern an 18-4 record and placed second in the league with an 8-2 log. The next year he finished with 13-5 and again 8-2 in the "Interac" to tie with Haverford for the title. This past year he ended with 17-4 and again was 8-2 in the league for another co-championship, this time with G.A. His total record is 48-13, a .796 percentage and 24-6 in "Interac" competition for an even .800 percentage.

But this is not intended to extoll his coaching ability. This is sort of a last goodbye, a last thank you. It is our last opportunity to say thanks to our most distinguished graduate. So to you, Dr. Powers, goodbye, thank you, and good luck!

Sincerely,

"Class of '59"

Baseball

Every school must have its lean years in its various sports. For the last two seasons Malvern has certainly seen lean times in baseball. Two years ago we didn't win a single game. So, of course, we could go now ~~up~~ but up. This season our fortunes were better, but not good enough to make us a contender for the title. As a matter of fact, we ended the league in a tie with Chestnut Hill for last place.

With baseball every year arrives the schedule for early buses. The temptation for freedom naturally overcomes many students, especially the younger ones, and consequently the baseball team receives a minimum of support. But this past campaign saw a slight change (slight, but noticeable) in that the older students, mainly seniors, began to stay regularly to watch the games. This is an encouraging thing and we sincerely hope that it will continue in the future. Thanks, team and coach, for all the hard work.

Like all other sports, a basketball player gets the upper hand in his opponent.

Bob Hurt, captain of our wrestling team, is a very strong and powerful person.

A very fine athlete and a very fine person. By his hard work and never-say-die spirit he showed our men the path to victory. Words can't express the high esteem the whole team has for his determination, grit, and guts. All guts, guts to make it hurt when sprinting to the finish. It didn't go unnoticed. Chas. Thanks and good luck always.

Mike's high jump was a tremendous feat and is certainly a tribute to Mike's great competitive spirit.

When the 1959 Track season started, it was doubtful whether or not we would win a single meet. But hard work, good coaching, and plenty of practice resulted in a winning season! We actually finished with a 3-2-1 record and even scored 15 points in the Interac Championship Meet to place 5th—quite an unexpected showing.

Mr. Wilkinson deserves a lot of credit for his untiring work with the boys. He got us into shape and kept us there, he ironed out our flaws, he was invaluable. Captain Charley Pulfrey was a leader all year long. By hard work, determination, and will to win Charley showed us how it should be done. Steve Forsyth and Kely were standouts in the distances. Toner was unbelievable in the broad jump, Jesse Owens picked off his share of points in the hurdles. Every meet we won was a combination of everybody's supreme effort. All in all, we are pleased with our track team and showing.

Tennis

Against a rugged schedule in one of the fastest high school tennis leagues in the entire country, Malvern's Interac varsity tennis squad d'd not make a very strong showing. The out-classed Friars came close in a couple of matches, but their opponents always seemed to have that little extra needed to bring home the victory.

Although it was a disappointing season from the standpoint of record, Coach Massey's boys were scrambling all the way. The combination of inexperience (only two seniors started every match), marvelously skilled competition, and the unfortunate retirement in mid-season of one of the regular doubles men, proved an overwhelming one.

There was a ray of sunlight in the gloom, however, as everyone excepting the first singles player, and a few doubles men and alternates will return next year. With a year or two of rugged Interac experience behind them, they will no doubt be in the running all the way. Malvern's tennis fans definitely have something to "wait till next year" for.

Coach Montgomery points out a little flaw in Ed's style.

Malvern's Golf Team came up with another successful season this year, led mostly by our new coach, Mr. Joe Montgomery, and captain Ed O'Malley. The team enjoyed a very successful season. The team captured many victories this year, and for the first time in many years, B. J. McMahon and B. J. Toner return and no doubt will lead the Malvern duffers to another successful year.

Rifle Team

Malvern boasts of its varied extracurricular program, and not unjustly either. We claim that no matter what your sport is, we have it. Many of our students are rifle enthusiasts. Consequently, we have a rifle team, moderated by Fr. Keating and captained this year by Emmett McDermott. Backed by the spirit of the members and held together by Fr. Keating's interest, the rifle team has grown and no doubt will continue to prosper.

SHAPING US INTO THE MOLDS OF MEN.

Through Malvern's recent history, in previous years the yearbook staff contained members of all classes at Malvern. Even freshmen were permitted on the staff. We are not considering the inclusion of members of former staffs, but the opinion of the school board is to limit primarily our yearbook and our contribution to the school, a yearbook staff should consist only of members of the graduating class.

Other schools have followed the custom, as it were, and allowed underclassmen on their staffs. We resolved to do what we thought best for our annual and to strive to make it a superior one. We therefore have excluded all underclassmen from our ranks, and have on our staff only members of our class, who we feel have taken a genuine interest in our book. Thus it is with pleasure and with pride that the class of '59 presents their annual and its staff.

Mr. Schuster, our moderator, and Jim O'Brien, editor, realize that another year is to be missed.

Once again, the staff of the year has been chosen. The two right hand men, Jim O'Brien and Mr. Schuster, have been chosen for the year. The staff has been chosen for the year.

The staff actually caught working. (A candid shot.)

It goes without saying how much help Mr. Schuster has been to us this past year, but we'd like to say it anyway. Whenever a difficult problem presented itself, we could always rely on Mr. Schuster to come up with a solution. The class of '59 gratefully expresses its thanks to Mr. Schuster, our moderator and our friend.

It is the trend these days to turn to professional artists, but with Jim Sarkissian on our staff we had no need for one.

Brian Lowery and Bill Shea were kept busy all year, and here they are again, busy as bees.

INTRODUCING US INTO THE UNKNOWN...

Freshman Class History

By hard work and determination the freshman class has earned itself one of the great classes of Malvern. When we arrived at Malvern we were informed of the many opportunities which were available to us and we quickly took advantage of them.

We were well fitted to take full advantage of Malvern's opportunities. With this in mind we studiously labored to maintain high scholastic grades and our efforts did not go unrewarded.

It was not only our scholastic efforts which were rewarded but also our extra-curricular activities.

By the frequent reception of the sacraments which were so accessible to us and the guidance of the priests we also advanced spiritually.

All these things have given us freshmen memories that we will cherish always and try to add to in our future years at Malvern.

Freshman Class Officers: Bill McDonough, Vc Sarkissian, Bill Scott, John Tunnell.

GUIDING US THROUGH THE DAYS OF ADOLESCENCE

Junior Class History

We returned to Mavern for our third year with the feeling that we were going to show the whole school. We did. This year our class became known for its winning spirit. It wasn't that we did things to prove that we had school spirit, it was that we had school spirit that we did things.

We didn't just attend the games, we were out in numbers. We went all out in the chance drive. But most important, to us, was the fact that we became the first junior class in Mavern's history to win the can drive for the Sacred Heart Home for Incurable Cancer. True, we just nosed out the seniors, but we beat them.

The basketball team were really winners. The football side lines were picked by them. The track meets were crowded with juniors. But our real pride was not entirely physical, we were well represented on the teams also. Three juniors started on the basketball team. We had three starters on the football team, not to mention the many other members of the team who were on the varsity team. Several of our class men received mention on the different "All Star" teams.

It has been a very satisfactory year for us, we have been working toward academic pride. In the beginning we found our entrance into science, modern language and advanced mathematics more difficult, but we soon adjusted and many of us successfully made the honor roll.

All in all it was a good year for the Junior class. We distinguished ourselves spiritually, athletically, socially, and academically. We showed that Mavern can expect in next year's Senior class a great one.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be changed.

2. The second step is to set goals. These should be specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound.

3. The third step is to develop a plan. This involves identifying the resources needed and the steps to be taken.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring progress.

5. The fifth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the actual results with the goals and making adjustments as needed.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the asymptotic behavior of the solutions of the system (1) as $t \rightarrow \infty$. It is shown that the solutions of the system (1) are bounded and tend to zero as $t \rightarrow \infty$ if the matrix A is stable.
